

Georgia Rural Health Association —

TO PROMOTE AND IMPROVE RURAL HEALTH

Georgia Rural Health Association Annual Conference Sponsor Prospectus

The Georgia Rural Health Association (GRHA) is the oldest state rural health association in the country. Founded in 1981, this nonprofit network of healthcare providers, educators, and individuals is united in its commitment to improve the health and healthcare services of rural Georgians. The GRHA membership is a diverse network of providers and stakeholders including Rural Health Clinics, Federally Qualified Health Centers, rural hospitals, private providers, academic partners, State offices and divisions with rural health focus, Statewide Area Health Education Centers, Public Health, mental health organizations and other stakeholders interested in improving the health and well-being of those living in rural Georgia.

The annual conference typically brings participants from across the continuum of care as described earlier. Sponsors may setup on Day 1 prior to the Noon/1PM start time or as they arrive. There will be multiple networking breaks and an evening reception that will provide exhibitors and sponsors with the opportunity to mingle with attendees.

Dates/Location: September 10 – 12, at the Jekyll Island Club and Resort on Jekyll Island, GA.

If you have further questions, you can reach me by calling 912-337-6183 (cell) or email: loyd.sirmons@gmail.com. We appreciate your consideration of the Georgia Rural Health Association as a partner organization.
